

The Blazed Trail

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Copyright, 1902, by Stewart Edward White

Finally his shrewd, intuitive good sense flashed the solution on him. He returned rapidly to his pack, assumed the straps and arrived at the first dark about dark of the long summer day. There he looked carefully about him. Some fifty feet from the water's edge a birch knoll supported, besides the birches, a single big hemlock. With his belt as Thorpe cleared away the little white trees. He stuck the sharpened end of one of them in the bark of the shaggy hemlock, fastened the other end in a crotch eight or ten feet distant, slanted the rest of the saplings along one side of this ridgepole and turned in, after a hasty supper, leaving the completion of his permanent camp to the morrow.

In the morning he thatched smooth the roof of the shelter, using for the purpose the thick branches of hemlocks, placing two green spruce logs side by side as cooking range, slung his pot on a rod across two forked sticks, cut and split a quantity of wood, spread his blankets and called himself established.

For some days he made no effort to look over the pine, nor did he intend to begin until he could be sure of doing so in safety. His object now was to give his knoll the appearance of a trapper's camp.

Toward the end of the week he received his first visit. Evening was drawing on. Thorpe was busily engaged in cooking a panful of trout. Suddenly he became aware of a presence at his side.

"How do?" greeted the newcomer gravely. The man was an Indian, silent, solemn, with the straight, unwinking gaze of his race.

"How do?" replied Thorpe. The Indian without further ceremony threw his pack to the ground, and, squatting on his heels, watched the white man's preparations. When the meal was cooked he coolly produced a knife, selected a clean bit of hemlock bark and helped himself. Then he lit a pipe and gazed keenly about him.

"What you do?" he inquired after a long silence, punctuated by the puffs of tobacco.

"Hunt, trap, fish," replied Thorpe, with equal sententiousness. "Good," concluded the Indian after a ruminative pause.

That night he slept on the ground. Next day he made a better shelter than Thorpe's in less than half the time and was off hunting before the sun was an hour high. He was armed with an old fashioned smooth bore muzzle loader, and Thorpe was astonished after he had become better acquainted with his new companion's method to find that he hunted deer with fine bird shot.

The Indian never expected to kill or even mortally wound his game, but he would follow for miles the blood drops caused by his little wounds until the animals in sheer exhaustion allowed him to approach close enough for a dispatching blow. At 2 o'clock he returned with a small buck, tied scientifically together for toting, with the waste parts cut away, but every ounce of utility retained.

"I show," said the Indian, and he did. Thorpe learned the Indian tan. The Indian appeared to intend making the birch knoll his permanent headquarters. Thorpe was at first a little suspicious of his new companion, but the man appeared scrupulously honest, was never intrusive and even seemed genuinely desirous of teaching the white little tricks of the woods brought to their perfection by the Indian alone. He ended by liking him. The two rarely spoke. They merely sat near each

"How do?" greeted the newcomer, bulging meal sack lodged by a cord across the shoulders and chest. Both were armed with long slender scalars' rules. The first intimation Thorpe received of the presence of these two men was the sound of their voices.

"Hello, Charley!" said one of them. "What you doing here? Ain't seen you since the Starogee district."

"Mak' 'um canoe," replied Charley rather obviously.

"So I see. But what do you expect to get in this God forsaken country?" "Beaver, muskrat, mink, otter."

"Trapping, eh?" the man gazed keenly at Thorpe's recumbent figure. "Who's the other fellow?"

Thorpe held his breath, then exhaled it in a long sigh of relief.

"Him 'white man,' Injun Charley was replying. "Him hunt too. He mak' 'um buckskin."

The land looker arose lazily and sauntered toward the group.

"Howdy?" he drawled. "Got any smokin'?"

"How are you?" replied one of the scalars, eying him sharply and tenderly his pouch. Thorpe filled his pipe deliberately and returned it with a heavy lidded glance of thanks. To all appearances he was one of the lazy, shiftless hunters of the backwoods.

Seized with an inspiration, he said: "What sort of chances is they at your camp for a little dour? Me and Charley's about out. I'll bring you meat, or I'll make you boys meecassins. I got some good buckskin."

It was the usual proposition.

"Pretty good, I guess. Come up and see," advised the scalar. "The crew's right behind us."

"I'll send Charley," drawled Thorpe. "I'm busy now makin' traps."

He waved his pipe, calling attention to the pine and rawhide deadfalls.

They chatted a few moments. Then two wagons creaked lumbering by, followed by fifteen or twenty men. The last of these, evidently the foreman, was joined by the two scalars.

Injun Charley was setting about the splitting of a cedar log.

"You see," he remarked. "I big friend."

In the days that followed Thorpe cruised about the great woods. It was slow business, but fascinating. He knew that when he should embark on his attempt to enlist considerable capital in an "unsight, unseen" investment he would have to be well supplied with statistics.

First of all he walked over the country at large to find where the best timber lay. This was a matter of tramping, though often on an elevation he succeeded in climbing a tall tree whence he caught birdseye views of the country at large. He always carried his gun with him and was prepared at a moment's notice to seem engaged in hunting.

Next he ascertained the geographical location of the different clumps and forests, entering the sections, the quarter sections, even the separate forties, in his notebook, taking in only the "descriptions" containing the best pine.

Finally he wrote accurate notes concerning the topography of each and every pine district—the lay of the land, the hills, ravines, swamps and valleys, the distance from the river, the character of the soil. In short, he accumulated all the information he could by which the cost of logging might be estimated.

For this he had really too little experience. He knew it, but determined to do his best. The weak point of his whole scheme lay in that it was going to be impossible for him to allow the prospective purchaser a chance to examine the place. That difficulty Thorpe hoped to overcome by inspiring personal confidence in himself. If he failed to do so he might return with a land looker whom the investor trusted, and the two could re-enact the comedy of this summer. Thorpe hoped, however, to avoid the necessity. He set about a rough estimate of the timber.

One evening just at sunset Thorpe was helping the Indian shape his craft. The two men bent there at their task, the dull glow of evening falling upon them. Behind them the knoll stood out in picturesque relief against the darker pines. The river rushed by with a never ending roar and turmoil.

Through its shouting one perceived, as through a mist, the still lofty peace of evening. A young fellow, hardly more than a boy, exclaimed with keen delight of the picturesque as his canoe slid around the bend into sight of it.

The canoe was large and powerful, but well filled. An Indian knelt in the stern. Amidships was well laden with duffle of all descriptions. The young fellow sat in the bow. He was a bright fellow, eager eyed, curly haired young fellow, all enthusiasm and fire. His figure was trim and clean, but rather slender, and his movements were quick, but nervous. When he stepped carefully out on the flat rock to which his guide brought the canoe with a swirl of the paddle one initiated would have seen that his clothes, while strong and serviceable, had been bought from a sporting catalogue.

"This is a good place," he said to the guide. "We'll camp here." Then he turned up the steep bank without looking back.

"Hello!" he called in a cheerful, unembarrassed fashion to Thorpe and Charley. "How are you? Care if I camp here? What you making? By Jove! I never saw a canoe made before. I'm going to watch you. Keep right at it."

He sat on one of the outcropping boulders and took off his hat.

"Say, you've got a great place here! You here all summer? Hello! You've got a deer hanging up. Are there many of 'em around here? I'd like to kill a deer first rate. I never have. It's sort of out of season now, isn't it?"

"We only kill the bucks," replied Thorpe.

"I like fishing too," went on the boy. "Are there any here? In the pool? John," he called to his guide, "bring me my fishing tackle."

In a few moments he was whipping the pool with long, graceful drops of the fly. He proved to be adept. At first the Indian's stolid countenance seemed a trifle doubtful. After a time it cleared.

"Good!" he grunted.

The other Indian had now finished the erection of a tent and had begun to cook supper over a little sheet iron camp stove. Thorpe and Charley could smell him.

"You've got quite a pantry," remarked Thorpe.

"Won't you eat with me?" proffered the boy hospitably.

But Thorpe declined.

In the course of the evening the boy approached the older men's camp and, with charming diffidence, asked permission to sit awhile at their fire.

"It must be good to live in the woods," he said with a sigh, "to do all things for yourself. It's so free."

"I just do love this!" he cried again and again. "Oh, it's great, after all that fuss down there!" And he cried it so fervently that the other men present smiled, but so genuinely that the smile had in it nothing but kindness.

"I came out for a month," said he suddenly, "and I guess I'll stay the rest of it right here. You'll let me go with you sometimes hunting, won't you? I'd like first rate to kill a deer."

"Sure," said Thorpe. "Glad to have you."

"My name is Wallace Carpenter," said the boy, with a sudden unmistakable air of good breeding.

"Well," laughed Thorpe, "two old woods loafers like us haven't got much use for names. Charley here is called Geezgit, and mine's nearly as bad, but I guess plain Charley and Harry will do."

A FALSE ALARM

Court Cassini's Apprehensions Speedily Relieved By Mr. Hay.

NO MISUNDERSTANDING

What Might Have Developed Into a Cause for Distrust Has Been Satisfactorily Explained.

Secretary of State Makes Plain a Few Things to the Russian Ambassador.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Diplomats here attach significance to the statement which the president is said to have made to the Russian ambassador at the diplomatic dinner Thursday night, that he earnestly hoped that the far Eastern situation might be saved by diplomacy.

Washington, Jan. 16.—What might have developed into an unfortunate misunderstanding between the governments of the United States and Russia, regarding the interest of the United States in Manchuria, was adjusted at a conference at the state department between Mr. Hay, secretary of state, and Count Cassini, Russian ambassador.

COUNT CASSINI.

As a result the Russian government will be advised by the ambassador that he has the best assurance that the interest of the United States in Manchuria is absolutely and exclusively commercial and that the consuls sent to Mukden and Antung will confine their activities to the faithful care of American trade interests in that province.

Count Cassini called at the state department to inquire into certain statements which several European diplomats had brought to his attention and interpreted to indicate a change of policy on the part of the United States government in the direction of political intervention in Manchuria.

The conference between the secretary and ambassador was characterized by frank cordiality on both sides. It is said that no matter what occurs in the far East the United States will be fully protected in commercial and treaty rights so far as Russia is able to act in the affair.

Weren't Looking for Trouble.

Rome, Jan. 16.—Prince Takinguki, telegraphing from the Japanese war ship Niasin, says that when the Niasin and Kasaga were escorted through the Mediterranean by nine British war ships, they were approached by two Russian torpedo boats and that when the latter saw the powerful escort they left in haste for the harbor of Syracuse. It is asserted that Great Britain is concentrating fifty-two war ships in the Mediterranean.

Czar's Remark Carries Weight.

Berlin, Jan. 16.—The foreign office attaches weight to the utterance of the czar at the New Year's reception in the winter palace at St. Petersburg, because they were no doubt made by prearrangement and with the knowledge and advice of his ministers. His majesty's statements can hardly be taken in any special sense, but only as sincere intentions solemnly declared.

Designs on Railroad.

Pekin, Jan. 16.—It is reported from consular sources at New Chwang that Russian troops are concentrating at the towns of Liao-Yang and Hai Cheng and other places, where they will be in a position to re-occupy the territory between the Liao river and the great wall and seize the New Chwang-Shan Hai Kwan section of the Chinese railroad.

A Daring Plot Reported.

Odessa, Jan. 16.—The Asiatic department has ascertained that 200 Japanese engineers disguised as Chinese coolies are scattering along the Trans-Siberian railway with the object of blowing up the line when war is declared.

Charged With Embezzlement.

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 16.—J. W. Warr, head of the J. W. Warr Publishing company, secretary of the Moline Savings, Building and Loan association, and leader in reform movements, has been indicted by a grand jury on seventeen counts, charging embezzlement of $100,000 while secretary of the building and loan association. He was arrested and arranged to give bonds.

MOVED TOWN BODILY

And in the Row That Followed Many Were Shot.

Guthrie, O. T., Jan. 16.—It transpired that the Mountain Park men injured in a battle between Mountain Park and Snyder citizens were: S. L. Garbough, shot in right side and arm, may die; William Humphrey, shot through both legs, may die; Theodore Coleman, shot in hand; J. A. McLaren, shot in right leg; W. D. Neal, shot in legs.

The list of Snyder men who were wounded has not been obtained. The battle occurred at a bridge across Dry Otter creek and resulted from an attempt to move sixty-three buildings from Mountain Park to Snyder. Mountain Park people thought that by destroying the bridge they would stop the moving of the houses, and three attempts were made to wreck the bridge. When the news reached Snyder that another attempt was making, Constable Gilbert organized a posse. The sheriff has arrived at Snyder and is making many arrests.

THE STATE OF TRADE

Unquestionable Improvement Is Noted By Bradstreet's

New York, Jan. 16.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Though not thoroughly opened yet except at the Southwest, spring trade is beginning to live up and this, coupled with a large volume of clearance sales by retailers, give an appearance of activity to midwinter operations. The industrial situation shows improvement, particularly in iron and steel mill resumption, and in the putting into blast of more coke furnaces. Little or no friction seems to attend numerous wage reductions scheduled for the current month, and though weather conditions are a bar to activity in outside work, an active spring is looked for in this line. While war talk and weather conditions have operated to raise prices of food products, the unquestionable improvement in the tone of trade is the mainspring of the upward swing in prices.

No Light on Tragedy.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 16.—The trial of Mrs. Katherine Bechtel, charged with being an accessory after the fact to the murder of her daughter Mabel, is still in progress, and a number of witnesses have been examined. No evidence has been elicited to throw light on the girl's death.

Caught at the Crossing.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 16.—An east-bound Michigan line car carrying a heavy load of passengers hurrying home at the close of the day, was struck by a Grand Trunk passenger train last evening at Gratiot avenue and Dequindre street. More than thirty-four persons were injured. No one was killed though some of the injured may die.

Must Comply With Ordinance.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—Orders have been issued by Commissioner Williams to close six more churches for failure to comply with the building ordinance. Seventeen more halls have been closed. Non-compliance with city ordinances is the reason assigned.

Officers of Hod Carriers.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 16.—The International Union of Hod Carriers and Building Laborers at their convention elected these officers: President, Herman Lillian, Chicago; secretary and treasurer, J. A. Steenburgh, Waverly, N. Y.

Uruguay's Civil Troubles.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Jan. 16.—It is reported that a serious battle has taken place between government troops and insurgents, the latter losing heavily.

The Defense in the Postal Cases Secures a Valuable Ruling.

LEGAL BATTLE IS ON

Hearings of Machen, the Groffs and the Lorenzes Promises a Pretty Contest of Wits.

No Point Will Be Left Unfought By the Defense to Strengthen Its Side.

Washington, Jan. 16.—In the trial of August W. Machen, the Groff brothers and Dr. and Mrs. Lorenz, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, the defense scored an important point with respect to the character of evidence to be introduced at this time by the government. The defense insisted that the government had not brought forth any documentary evidence showing the existence of a conspiracy to defraud the government and that which was being offered naturally should follow the evidence of conspiracy so as to specifically connect the defendants with the various transactions which had been referred to. The court sustained the point. At one point in the trial Mr. Douglas, for the defense, called Mr. Justice Pritchard to reprimand First Assistant Postmaster-General Wynne for volunteering the statement that a former employee of the postoffice department recently had been sentenced in Baltimore to a term of two years in the penitentiary. The suggestion was not complied with but the justice instructed the jury that their minds must not be prejudiced by the statement of Mr. Wynne.

Perry S. Heath, former assistant postmaster general, who was subpoenaed from his home in Salt Lake City to state what he knew about the administration of his office, was placed on the stand. Heath was visibly nervous, but made his answers slowly and deliberately. No changes in the post-office administration had been inaugurated by him, he declared. He said the Groff fasteners had been accepted before he took office. Heath said he had never known the Groffs nor had he ever seen them until he entered the court room

Election Fraud Uncovered.

Denver, Col., Jan. 16.—Proof of the padding of the registration lists of Denver county previously to the late charter convention election was unearthed at a joint meeting of supervisors and aldermen. It was discovered that sheets containing 4,014 fraudulent names had been inserted in the list of 1,586 voters, whose excuses for their failure to vote at the November election had been accepted by the council. A committee was appointed to probe the matter.

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peopling the darkness with phantoms, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes. Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep. Irrregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are perfectly cured by "Favorite Prescription." "My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulle, Esq., of Allentown, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicines and we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription.' I sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the first dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

DISPATCHES say that Bryan is preparing plans to move his paper, The Commoner, from Lincoln to St. Louis, and issue a daily edition during the World's Fair.

THE rank and file of the republicans are for President Roosevelt to succeed himself. And why should they not be for him? He is a brave and able man and a statesman of the first rank. The Cincinnati Tribune and a few would be politicians can not thwart the will of the people.

WITH the memory of the panic from 1893 to 1897 so fresh in the memory of the people, how can the democratic party hope for success in the year 1904. If there is anything the people do not want it is a return of such times. Therefore they will not return the democratic party to power.

BECAUSE an order has gone forth that clerks in the departments at Washington must work seven hours a day the clerks are indignant. But there will be no protest from the people. If there is a clerk at Washington who can not stand to work seven hours in twenty-four he is not able to earn his salary.

WE are always willing to help bear the burdens of the weak and extend charity to the unfortunate and misguided but the REPUBLICAN positively declines to assume any responsibility for editorial opinions expressed in the Seymour Democrat. And when the Washington Democrat clips a paragraph from the editorial column of our contemporary and credits the same to the REPUBLICAN we enter a protest. Editor Boyd must have been away attending a Bryan revival meeting, leaving the office in charge of the boys. Even our contemporary does not recognize its own and recopies the paragraph, credit and all.

WHILE Crothersville men are looking around for a location for a canning factory they should not overlook the advantages Seymour can offer. In the first place the soil of this vicinity is suitable for growing tomatoes and a large acreage could certainly be contracted for. Then there are a number of good sites here for such a factory that could be secured at a reasonable price. The railroad and shipping facilities here are first class. There plenty of help could be secured here. In fact, we have all the advantages that such a plant demands. Seymour would like to have a successfully operated canning factory and we would respectfully invite these Crothersville gentlemen to consider the advantages of locating their contemplated plant here.

ABEL TRIAL NEXT WEEK.

Will Begin at Franklin Monday
Jan 18

The trial of Cudworth W. Abel, charged with murder in the second degree, will be called at Franklin next Monday. It was postponed at Columbus two or three times and then a change of venue was taken. The general opinion prevails that there will be no further postponement.

Mr. Abel has been under bond since last May when he shot and killed his nephew, Chas. Abel, during some trouble over a settlement. Mr. Abel claims that his action was in self defense.

In this case a strong array of lawyers has been employed. The state will be represented by Freeman Miller, prosecutor of the Johnson circuit court, W. W. Lambert, and Cox & Custer, of Columbus, and A. C. Brannaman, of Seymour. The defendant's lawyers are O. H. Montgomery, of this city, Marshall Hacker, W. J. Beck and C. J. Kollmeyer, of Columbus, and Miller & Barnett, of Franklin.

Northwestern Issues an Order
Against Speed Higher than Schedule.

The Northwestern railway has issued an order that under no circumstances shall passenger trains exceed their schedule speed. No matter how late the train may be, the engineer must not make up time by running faster than his schedule calls for. All trains that become late on any portion of their trip must arrive at destination late.

The explanation is made that the management does not care to risk disaster which might occur on account of fast running in an effort to make up lost time.

"A large majority of the winter wrecks are due to an effort to make up lost time, and the northwestern management does not believe such effort to be worth the possible cost," said an official of the company.

GOVERNOR DURBIN SUGGESTS

Turning Half of Brown County
Into a Great Military Camp.

The latest enterprise proposed for Brown county is to turn it into a camp for military instruction and let the United States government take charge of about half of it. While Governor Durbin was in Washington this week he made the suggestion that this be done. He says that if the U. S. is in search of a good place for a great military camp it could do no better than to purchase about half of Brown county.

"The objection to some of the camps which the government now has is that the ground is too level," said the governor. "In order to make good soldiers it is desirable to select as the drill ground rough country, covered with forests and underbrush in places, and plenty of physical objections, so that the soldiers may become toughened and hardened for conditions as they will find them in actual war."

Ordered Back to Work.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—The strike of the livery drivers, which from its beginning several weeks ago, has caused much annoyance to mourners and interference at funerals, is ended and the union men have been ordered back to work. A committee of owners and drivers had a conference at which it was agreed to recognize the "closed shop." It was agreed that the wage scale shall be arbitrated as soon as possible by a committee of the union and employers.

Want to Save Knapp's Neck.

Hamilton, Ohio, Jan. 16.—It is learned that the lawyers for Alfred Knapp, who was convicted of murdering his wife and sentenced to be electrocuted but was granted a new trial, are endeavoring to secure the consent of the state to have their client plead guilty to murder in the second degree and accept a life sentence. The county prosecutor has not yet given his consent, and it is said his course of action has not yet been determined.

Going After the Captain.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 16.—Application has been made at the coroner's inquest into the Clallam disaster for warrants for the arrest of Captain Roberts and others who are held responsible for the wreck, on a charge of manslaughter.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: "After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured."

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammelled action.

Bottles only $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

Republicans Not Concerned About the Opposition's Agitation.

Indianapolis, Jan. 16.—While the Democratic state managers are preparing for a great fight to have the apportionment act passed by the last legislature set aside as unconstitutional, these efforts on their part are giving very little if any worry to the Republican managers. As a matter of fact the Republican leaders do not care whether the bill stands or falls. Most of the leaders are looking forward to having the supreme court declare the bill illegal. There are some features of the legislation which make it almost necessary that the court shall render such a decision. If this does happen, about the only people who will be disappointed will be some of the members of the legislature who thought they were shaping things up in such a manner that they would be able to perpetuate themselves in office. As a matter of fact, Republican leaders who have investigated the matter closely say the old apportionment act of 1897 under which members of the legislature have been elected for the last six years is really more advantageous to them than the new measure. Under the new law if Marion county should ever be carried by the Democrats it might give them control of the legislature. The old bill did not give the election of enough members to this county to make this possible. Then, too, if the apportionment law is "knocked out" it will give a chance for calling a special session of the legislature when a bill which will be constitutional but which will really be of great assistance to the Republicans will be passed.

Members of the state board of education are not favorable to the plan suggested by Will H. Whitaker, superintendent of the Indiana reformatory, to have school-books printed at his institution, and it is probable at the meeting of the board to be held next month contracts for the new books for a long period will be awarded. The contract will be worth from $600,000 to $800,000 to the company that captures it, and for that reason there will be the liveliest kind of competition. From present indications, however, the board members will be obliged to choose between the companies on the quality of work they turn out. The companies that have submitted bids have all bid the maximum price allowed by law for the various books. This means that there is no favorite so far as prices are concerned and the board will have to find something beside a difference in the bids on which to base its selection.

A good deal of amusement has been caused people here by the manner in which three gamblers relieved a constable who had raided a gambling house of the paraphernalia which he was carting to this city to turn over to the authorities. John Ferguson, constable, accompanied by a member of the horse-thief detective agency, went to Cumberland to take charge of the property found in the gambling rooms opened there some time ago by Gus Rahke. They loaded the stuff onto a wagon and started for the city. Early yesterday morning, just as they reached the city limits, they were met by three men in another wagon. The men stopped them, flashed a paper which one man pretended to read, and then placed the gambling materials on their own wagon and drove away, leaving the constable and his companion alone in the road.

A CLOSED INCIDENT

Senator Hanna Makes It Very Plain
He Isn't a Candidate.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 16.—Senator M. A. Hanna last night said: "I have sent out 2,000 personal letters denying that I am a candidate for the presidency, and I do not want to be regarded as a candidate. I regard all such talk as a closed incident."

"The alleged opposition to the nomination of President Roosevelt has been overestimated and magnified greatly by Democratic papers and others with Democratic proclivities." Senator Hanna said he would issue the call for the Republican national convention in a few days. It has been delayed on account of the talk about Chicago hotel keepers advancing rates.

Narrowly Missed Audience.

Calgary, N. W. T., Jan. 16.—Fire, starting from the furnace of the new Normandie theater, gutted the block yesterday, causing a loss of $280,000. Six stores burned. The theater was to have been used last night for the first time.

Live Stock Men Adjourn.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 16.—The seventh annual convention of the National Live Stock association has adjourned to meet in Denver next year. H. J. Hagenbarth, of Utah, was elected president.

Milwaukee Cleaning Up.

Milwaukee, Jan. 16.—The grand jury which is investigating alleged corruption in city and county governments has returned three indictments. The names are withheld pending arrests.

New York, Jan. 16.—The loss of depositors in the collapsed Bank of Staten Island will be about 40 per cent according to a preliminary report on the investigation of accounts.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 16.—Two masked men robbed the bank at Belen of $1,000 which was lying on the counter and escaped on horses.

Positive Purity

Good Luck Baking Powder is so pure, its leavening force so great—that it takes only a heaping teaspoonful of a quart of sifted flour to give the very best results in biscuits, rolls, buns, wheat cakes, waffles, pies, etc.; somewhat less for cake; a trifle more for buckwheat—but, always less than any other baking powder. Because of its positive purity, Good Luck makes the lightest, whitest baking; lightest, because it generates most gas; whitest, because its ingredients are pure as the flour itself. The positive purity of makes uniform good results certain; makes it keep longer and better. This positive purity also makes it the largest seller in the world—we ship it in carload and trainload lots to every part of the country. In every can is a picture of one of the cars—a section of a train—read the conditions—and save it! If you cannot get Good Luck at your grocer's, write us, sending his name, and we will see that you are supplied.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Following the general plan adopted by the medical profession elsewhere, as well as by other professional men, merchants and business men generally, the physicians of Seymour, Ind., and vicinity have organized themselves into a Physicians' Protective Association. The object of this association shall be to promote such measures as are to the common interests of its membership and the general public. To this end we propose:

1. To enforce our medical and sanitary laws.
2. To encourage a higher standard of professional attainments among our members.
3. To establish as far as practicable uniform, just and specific fees for professional services.
4. To enforce payment for professional services, by a Black List, of a class who are able but unwilling to pay their bills and who in the past have been making the rounds as parasites on the profession.
5. To give, as we have done in the past, our time and knowledge cheerfully to the worthy poor.

Joe Hood, the Boston Expert, at the Elks Hall tonight.

Joseph G. Hood, of Boston, will give an exhibition with the ivories at the Elks hall tonight, at 9 o'clock. The reports of his work elsewhere say he has remarkable success demonstrating his shots and in nearly every case without suspicion of difficulty. One exchange says: "In his exhibition he made the ball do everything but climb off the table and roost on the chandelier. He drove them single, double, three abreast, tandem, fifteen in a row, fourteen in the pockets in a bunch." His skill is reported as little short of marvellous. He wears a handsome medal recently awarded him as the champion trick and fancy pool player of the world.

Interurban News.

Carl Wood announces the Indiana Central Interurban line will begin active work at once to build the line from Columbus to West Baden and French Lick, and likely complete it to Seymour, sixteen miles, during 1904. This line is also to be extended to Jeffersonville, New Albany and Louisville, to connect with the Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction company's lines, to be built very soon.

B. B. Jones, too, is still working up an interest in his lines from Columbus to Seymour and North Vernon, via Helt's mill.—Columbus Times.

A Farmer's Combine.

Agriculture on a new plan is being instituted in Allen county. H. F. Schmelker, M. G. Schmelker and Cornelius Reagan have organized a company and filed articles of incorporation. With a capitalization of $50,000 they will cultivate and raise live stock on adjoining farms.

The company will operate as a trust, having its offices in the town of New Haven, and will build its own warehouses for the storage of crops until prices reach a top notch.

Scenic Production.

"Why Women Sin," M. W. Taylor's big scenic melodrama, by Will C. Murphy, a well known newspaper man, will be presented for the first time in this city January, 22. It is said to contain a story of heart interest relieved by many bright spots of laughable comedy and sensational climaxes.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Brock's Age is 114 Years.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788. His age is 114 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme old age to the use of Pe-ru-na."

Born before the United States was formed.
Saw 22 Presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Shod a horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Pe-ru-na.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years.
Believes Pe-ru-na the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 114 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 114 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1898. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1898, and also the Chicago-Times Herald of same date.

TAKING NO CHANCES

Indianapolis Authorities Looking Into the Matter of Improperly Constructed Theaters.

Ordinance Will Be Amended to Insure the Safeguarding of the Public.

Indianapolis, Jan. 16.—The city council is taking an active part in the agitation to see that the theaters of this city are put in such condition that such a disaster as that which occurred in Chicago recently shall not happen in Indianapolis.

It is proposed to make several amendments to the theater ordinance to insure the placing of the buildings in the best of condition. In order that there may be no errors the councilmen are taking the matter in hand themselves, and in the last two days the special committee appointed to investigate this important question has been making a personal examination of the theaters to see if they are in good shape. The councilmen have found some things which they think should be remedied, and when the ordinance is drawn up it will provide for the alterations they think should be made.

PROBABLE MURDER MYSTERY

Foul Play Suggested in the Burning of Three Persons.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 16.—Coroner Tabor is making an investigation of the causes leading to the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Wardell and her two daughters, aged seven and fourteen. The bodies were found burned to a crisp in the ruins of their home, which was destroyed by fire.

At first it was supposed that the house was burned by fire from an old and broken stove in the bedroom, but later Coroner Tabor made a thorough examination of the bodies and found that all the skulls were crushed and the brains were fried by the heat of the fire. It is possible, according to the coroner, that the heat burst the skulls, but the brains being cooked as they were, indicates that the skulls were first crushed and then the house set on fire.

In examining the bodies again Coroner Tabor found that the abdomen of Bessie Wardell was split open before it was burned. The incision is clean cut and the coroner believes that it may have been made with a knife. A circumstance which leads to the belief that there was foul play is that threats are said to have been made against the Wardell family. The father is at Michigan City prison, serving a sentence for attempted assault on Edith, one of the girls who died in the flames.

A Determined Trial.

Bluefield, W. Va., Jan. 16.—Guests at a wedding which was announced to take place at Willomoon last night are scouring the hills looking for Frank Montroy, who at the point of a revolver held up Joseph Miller and forced him to surrender a license to marry Eleanor Nance to whose affections he was a rival. The wedding party was awaiting the arrival of the groom and when he returned minus the license the guests, headed by Miss Nance's father, started after Montroy.

Teller Talks.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Yesterday's session of the senate began with the passage of a number of bills on the calendar and closed in like manner. The intervening time was given over to a speech by Mr. Teller on the Panama canal question. Mr. Teller contending that the course of the president in connection with the recent revolt of Panama had been contrary to precedent and in contravention of international law.

A Singular Accident.

North Manchester, Ind., Jan. 16.—While Mr. and Mrs. John E. Buckingham were sleigh-riding, the mother carrying a two-months-old child in her arms, the horses became frightened and in his effort to control them Mr. Buckingham's arm slipped in such a way that he struck the little one with his elbow. The child made no outcry, nor did the father think the blow of sufficient force to cause injury, but when they reached home the little one was dead in its mother's arms.

Dropped Baby in Flight.

Alexandria, Ind., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Edward Allen, carrying her eight-months-old daughter in her arms, attempted to cross East Washington street in front of a rapidly approaching runaway team. The shouts of the driver confused her and in her alarm she dropped the child, and before she could rescue the little one it was crushed to death under the wheels of the wagon.

Murder Trial Set.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 16.—The trial of Andrew J. Baker of Elwood on an indictment of manslaughter for having shot and killed Fred Kiser in the streets of Elwood last fall, will be called in the circuit court next Tuesday.

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 16.—

Burglars cracked the safe of the J. L. Dillman company at Clear Creek, three miles south of here, and secured $180. The Bloomington police are making an investigation.

MRS. CARRIE P. HANNAFORD.

New Life and Strength Came to Her.

A Massachusetts woman, Mrs. CARRIE P. HANNAFORD, of No. 69 Hale St., Beverly, Mass., who is well-known socially there, being Treasurer of the Order of the EASTERN STAR, wrote her experience as follows:

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' is, without a doubt, the finest remedy on the market to-day, for female difficulties. I suffered for four years with pains every period, and saving goes on such a proposition. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. This wonderful remedy, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such remarkable curative properties as would warrant its makers in publishing such a marvelous offer as is above made in the utmost good faith."

These are the actual facts, and I feel that it is due you that I should write you.

Sincerely yours,
 Mrs. CARRIE P. HANNAFORD.

To Hon. R. V. Pierce, M. D.

Young women or matrons should not allow themselves to look sallow and wrinkled because of those pains and weaknesses which become chronic and are the result of colds, tight lacing, and imprudent care of the womanly system. Many a woman would look beautiful, have a healthy color and bright eyes if it were not for those drains on her strength and those weaknesses which come all too frequently and make her life miserable. There is a ready-to-use Prescription, used a great many years by Dr. R. V.

Vote Buyer Punished.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—Alderman John Brennan of the Eighteenth ward was taken to the house of correction last night to serve a sentence of one year for violation of the election laws. The specific charge against Brennan was that in the last judicial election in the spring of 1903 he purchased votes in the Eighteenth ward in the interest of Judge Elbridge Haney. At the time of Brennan's conviction Herbert E. Kent and Charles A. McCauley were also convicted of the same offense, but received shorter sentences.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pain, aches and rheumatism come from the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick, unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It is the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent, and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make, any mistake, remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Pierce in his large practice as a Specialist in women's diseases, which is not like the many "patent medicines" on the market, as it contains neither alcohol nor any narcotic. It is purely vegetable.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

$500 Reward FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Proflapsus, or Falling of Womb which they can not cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States, with most of whom they have done business for over a third of a century. From this fact it will readily be seen how utterly foolish it would be for them to make the above unprecedented and remarkable offer if they were not basing their offer on curative means having an unparalleled record. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out" as they say, before the first bottle was all used. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. This wonderful remedy, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such remarkable curative properties as would warrant its makers in publishing such a marvelous offer as is above made in the utmost good faith.

"I want to tell you of the great improvement in my health since taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" says Mrs. H. S. Jones, of Forest, N. C. "When I began its use I was a physical wreck and had despaired of ever having good health again. Could not sit up all day. I noted a great improvement before the first bottle was all used. Was suffering with almost every pain that a woman is subject to: had inflammation of ovaries, painful and suppressed periods, and other symptoms of female disease. After taking six bottles of your Favorite Prescription, I felt like a new person. Can ride horseback and take all kinds of exercise and not feel tired."

MRS. IDA McDONALD,

Supreme Deputy of the Maccabees of the World.

MRS. McDONALD, No. 477 Beaubien Street, Detroit, Mich., is a prominent woman who was greatly benefited by the great woman's medicine, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. McDonald is the supreme deputy of the Maccabees of the World, and one of the most widely known women in the United States. Thousands of women gather to hear her lecture everywhere she goes. The great work she has done for the Maccabees is appreciated by every member of the order. She was so absorbed in her work that she neglected to give her health proper care—failed to take warning that the symptoms of approaching kidney trouble gave her, the sallow complexion and torpid liver. But Wine of Cardui cured her the same as it has cured thousands of others and Mrs. McDonald has written this letter in order that other suffering women may secure from Wine of Cardui the same relief she got from it.

"For four years I suffered with torpid liver until my skin looked yellow and dull. I then found my kidneys were affected and I had severe pains across my back, and I felt that I must do something to regain my health. A friend advocated your Wine of Cardui treatment so strongly that I decided to try it, although I had little faith in patent medicines. I am now very thankful that I did so, for within ten days blessed relief came to me, and in less than three months I was cured, and have enjoyed fine health ever since. I know there is nothing better for a sick woman who wishes to enjoy perfect health and am very pleased to give my hearty endorsement."

No suffering woman can afford to ignore such a letter as Mrs. McDonald writes. Her plans and advice have proved valuable in building up one of the greatest women's organizations in the United States and she takes time to give advice which she knows will help you.

Do not delay in securing this medicine. There is nothing to gain and everything to lose by delay. The choice is before you. Will or will you not secure relief now by taking Wine of Cardui? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui as well as 25c packages of Theford's Black-Draught.

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui

We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup, we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by C. W. Milhous.
